

Octa Wall, wall sconce

Diaphan Studio

EDITION
Delvis (Un)Limited

The dominant feature of OCTA Wall is its flattened pyramidal shade, an octahedron bisected at its equator, finished with a brushing direction that accentuates every edge and facet.

MORE INFO:

When the lamp is lit, multiple beams from the integrated LED source fan outward and overlap across the wall surface, generating an ornamental texture of light and shadow. The result is both precise and organic—structured yet in constant subtle motion as ambient conditions shift.

BIO DESIGNER:

Established in 2019, Diaphan Studio is an atelier based in Milan, founded by Alessandro Giacomelli and Dominique Wolniewicz, respectively a gemologist and a lighting designer. Their approach blends a deep exploration of light's optical properties with a contemporary interpretation of crystalline structures, often imperceptible to the human eye.

Each creation is a sculpture made of light, casting delicate projections into its surroundings. More than objects, these luminous works transform spaces, allowing light to unfold in a mesmerizing symphony of color and form.
